CERTIFIED PUBLIC ACCOUNTANTS

Ivan Gittardi CPA LLC is a professional accounting, financial and tax consultant firm specifically catered to small and medium size business. We assure effective and practical solutions, personal dedication and a high level of service and competence to any and all of our clients. Our experience embraces an entire spectrum of international and local businesses from startup companies to publicly traded ones.

Due to our special interest in international inbound commerce our understanding of the American system, language barriers, and a cultural and technical difference is one of the most important issues that our firm is committed to solve. Our dedication to technology allow us to provide our services all over the United States: remote access systems, video conferencing and digitalized document transmission are the instruments utilized with the local and the Italian management to be “in the right place at the right time”. The firm is committed to a paperless approach, electronic filings, an open mind set for technology that enables our service to cover businesses all over the United States.

Our current client portfolio is “coast to coast” therefore an experienced network of professionals all over the country is accessible to address any possible issue that could arise.
